

CITIES FOR OUR FUTURE

Cities of today are growing at a pace that none of us have ever understood. That's a huge deal when you think about it. We do damage to nature, and we do less damage to nature when we occupy less of it.

Future urbanization going to be a good think or a bad think?